VOLUME 4. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 22, 1913. NO. 121.

A LARGE AUDIENCE

FIRST NUMBER OF COURSE WAS WELL ATTENDED.

A MESSAGE OF LOVE

Chancellor Bradford's Lecture Fine—Next Number of Course Will Be Maud Powell.

It was a magnificent representative audience of Maryville and surrounding country that greeted Chancellor George H. Bradford of the Oklahoma university Tuesday night at the First M. E. church, the opening number of the lecture course of the Maryville Lyceum association. It was a decided expression of the people for good entertainment for the young people of our city and all others who wish to avail themselves of the course. The church auditorium was filled and a greater part of the seats in the gallery were occupied.

As Maryville's love for good music is well known, it is predicted that when Maud Powell, the greatest woman violinist in the world, appears here on the 5th of November, there will not be room enough in the church for the people who will come to hear her.

Dean Colbert and President Ira Richardson of the State Normal gave words of greeting and expression of much satisfaction to the people for their response in assisting in forming the association, for, as they said, everyone in the house had bought his ticket and was just as much a member of the association as was the president of it, the officers and committees, for no ticket was given away for any reason. Whatever money remains over and above expenses at the end of the course, President Richardson said, would be used toward the next year's course.

The speaker of the evening was introduced by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church, who said and looked his pride and happiness in being permitted to introduce his friend, former pastor and teacher, to the Maryville people in his lecture, "Sun-crowned Manhood." And when the big, tall, fine looking, ruddy faced man arose to speak, it would have been a greatly disappointed people if he had not made good in the lecture that followed. In a voice that matched up with his body for size, glad, earnest, rich toned like the spirit of the man who possessed it, for you know he has it from the look in his eyes, he went right to work with his message of love and good cheer for all who have a desire to know something, to be something and to do something in the world.

He gave splendid proofs that all that is needed for any boy or girl, man or woman, to secure an education to fit themselves properly for any field of work is the desire for it. With the desire, if it is strong enough to lead them into right channels for an education, no matter how poor they may be, the way will be opened for its attainment. But it will mean work and the exercise of every physical and mental power while they are at it. He gave instances of his own personal knowledge of the struggle of young men for learning that was certainly inspiring, and when it was known that he left his father's home with $8.25 and went to the city of Denver, Col., where he decided to enter the university, with nothing about him to indicate he would be worth a student's career, he presented himself to the president of the institution and said he was "going through." And he did. He halted at no task. Shoveling ashes out of dark basements at 4 o'clock in the morning; driving cabs for millionaires out of school hours, any kind of job that would help along with his expenses. He had no time for loafing and no time for anyone whose company would do him no good.

Cancellor Bradford sees in the college and university education of the young people of our country, in connection with the influence of Christian homes and churches, the solving of every problem that may come before us. He puts up the ten years of present day college life in America against the ten years of apprenticeship to some trade of the European, for the training the American young man receives will fit him for ten means of livelihood and service in the world where the European's apprenticeship fits him for but one thing. To be an American is to be a Christian in the highest sense, and he proved it in his reference to William McKinley's death, whom he regards as the highest type of American citizenship.

There are too many good things that could be said in mentioning Dr. Bradford's lecture to attempt it here. Suffice it to say his lecture was as good as a two-mile walk on a bright frosty morning, invigorating and bracing, and putting new life and desires into all who heard him.

TOPS MARKET WITH STEERS.

R. M. New of Nodaway County Realizes $8.50 for 1,297-Pound Beeves.

The following is from the St. Joseph Live Stock Journal:

Highest selling cattle placed on the local market today comprised a load of steers fed and shipped by R. M. New, a successful young farmer and feeder of Nodaway county, Missouri. The shipment comprised 19 head of 1,297-pound beeves that sold at $8.50 and one yearling steer, weighing 840 pounds, that brought $8.75. The $8.50 lot were purchased as feeders at the St. Joseph yards early last June and were placed on feed shortly afterward. Fed corn on the grass they made a gain of 300 pounds per head, while in Mr. New's possession. The owner expressed himself well pleased with the sale of his cattle, which will show him a fair profit for handling.

Mr. New says that corn in his neighborhood promises to yield about half a crop this year. Pastures, he says, were never in better condition at this season of the year than at the present time.

OLD LAND GRANT

RECORDER WRAY GETS INTERESTING PAPER TO BE RECORDED.

WAS DATED IN 1857

Forty Acres Sold for $1.25 Per Acre—Signed by H. Jackson, a Governor of the State.

Recorder J. Arthur Wray received Wednesday an interesting paper to be recorded. It was the certificate of the patent grant to Andrew T. Jenkins to forty acres of land, located southwest of Ravenwood. The grant to the land was under date of May 12, 1857, and the land office was in Savannah at that time.

This patent grant has never been recorded before in this county, and the matter was taken up with Cornelius Roach, secretary of state at Jefferson City. He sent the copy of the certificate to Mr. Wray so as to be placed on file in the recorder's office. The signatures of H. Jackson as governor of the state and B. F. Massey as secretary of state were on the certificate.

The forty acres sold for $1.25 an acre for the entire tract. The certificate says that "the tract being part of the lands selected under an act of congress entitled "An act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands and to grant pre-emption rights."

The tract of land at the present time belongs to Mrs. Charles T. Bell of this city.

BEST TARIFF LAW

YET ENACTED WAS BY PRESENT SESSION OF CONGRESS.

MUCH ACCOMPLISHED

W. C. Van Cleve Home From Washington—Tells of Present Session—Currency Bill Being Considered.

W. C. Van Cleve, one of the editors of The Democrat-Forum, returned Wednesday morning from Washington, D. C., where he has been during the special session of congress as an assistant bill clerk. Mr. Van Cleve, in speaking of the work of the present congress, says:

"The present session of congress has been one of the most effective the country has ever had. It has undertaken the great work of carrying out the pledges of the Democratic party with a zeal heretofore unknown. Both senate and house have labored hard and in perfect harmony with the administration and one result is found in the fairest and best balanced tariff law yet enacted. Of course, there may be some slight defects which will develop in its practical application that will be remedied in the coming session. In all essentials, however, it is a great bill. It destroys nothing but injustice and wrong and the business of the country should go ahead and enjoy an era of unprecedented prosperity.

"The income tax feature of the new law will grow in popularity after the country becomes accustomed to it, and has come to stay. It involves the fairest principle of taxation. Under it men are taxed upon the incomes they have, after allowing a reasonable exemption for living expenses, instead of being taxed upon the things they need and must buy. The system has been in successful operation for many years in many of the older countries. The tax is so graded that those with swollen and unnatural incomes will help bear the burdens of government in proportion to the benefits derived.

"One pleasant feature of the summer's work has been the perfect harmony and unity of purpose with which congress and the president have worked. The readiness with which the tariff bill and other legislation passed the house was due to the magnificent support given the administration by Speaker Clark and Majority Leader Underwood, and in this support they were heartily joined by the whole Missouri delegation. The success of the bill in the senate, where the majority was very small, was due in no small measure to Senators Stone and Reed, both of whom took an important part and both of whom are rated among the ablest and most influential members of that body.

"The currency bill, which is intended to effect a beneficent revision of the currency and banking systems of the country's finances from the gambling an trust-ridden centers and place them under honest domination, and to provide an elastic currency in times of stringency, has also passed the house and is now under consideration in the senate. It will likely be reported from the senate committee on banking and currency during November, with some amendments which are meant to strengthen and perfect the bill.

"There has been some impatience manifested because the bill was not immediately reported to the senate, but it has been the custom of the senate, as a court of last resort in the making of legislation, to carefully consider, digest and scrutinize measures sent to it from the house. They had the tariff before them for a period of four months after the house had worked on it through two years, and the finished product is a distinct improvement over the house bill. The president is anxious to have the bill taken up, among which is trust legislation, but he is also willing and anxious to have it improved if possible. Senator Reed, who occupies an important place on the senate banking and currency committee, is in entire sympathy with the purposes of the bill, but believes it beneficial to get an extensive expression from the country, and wherever suggestions may seem practical and helpful to so amend the bill. To this end hearings have been held. These will close in a few days when the committee will offer such amendments as it thinks will strengthen and improve the bill, and it will be then reported to the senate for final consideration. This will require a few weeks, after which it will pass the senate and ultimately become a law. In a multitude of counsel working honestly toward a given end, there is much wisdom and all are confident that the results in this case will be in the end generally satisfactory and helpful to the country.

"Congress has in this special session laid the foundation for a great work and shown the country that it can do business in a business-like way, and that it is united in the one purpose of redeeming the pledges made by the majority to the people."

TO HAVE CLOSING OUT SALE.

W. O. Garrett to Sell His Live Stock, Farming Implements, Etc.—Will Continue to Reside Here.

W. O. Garrett will have a closing out sale on Wednesday, October 29, at his farm, north of Maryville. He will sell eight head of horses, twelve head of cattle, forty head of hogs, hay and grain and farming implements. R. P. Hosmer is the auctioneer and S. H. Kemp the clerk.

Mr. Garrett and his family are intending to spend the winter in California, but they will return to Maryville in the spring, when Mr. Garrett will engage his whole time in raising pure-bred Poland-China hogs, and also the chicken business.

BADLY BURNED FROM EXPLOSION

Mrs. Bert Jenkins, living one mile south of Braddyville, Ia., was probably fatally burned Wednesday forenoon while starting a fire in a coal stove. Mrs. Jenkins poured coal oil over the coal, and when a match was touched an explosion followed, setting fire to the interior of the house. Mrs. Jenkins' clothing caught fire and she ran out into the yard screaming for help. Neighbors heard her screams and ran to her assistance. Her clothing was nearly burned from her body before help came. She was taken to the home of Lewis Jenkins, who lives nearby. The physicians summoned give very little hope to the family for her recovery. Mrs. Jenkins is about 25 years old and has three little children. Her husband was working in a field some distance from the house and did not hear her call for help.

Fire started in the house by the explosion, but was put out by the neighbors before any serious damage was done.

MANY GIVE HELP

RODERICKS GOT MANY THINGS FOR THEIR NEEDS.

ARE WORTHY PEOPLE

Have Farm in Kansas, But Were Completely Wiped Out From Drouth and Hard Winter.

Maryville's heart is in the right place. The response to the call for help for the family of Lewis Roderick, who are staying in the shack in the Harrison pasture, east of the Burlington depot, was gratifying to the men and women who discovered their needs a few days ago.

They had such a good supper Tuesday night that the youngest boy, Bennie, was slightly ill Wednesday morning. He had to be cautioned constantly by his mother in regard to eating, but he managed to eat one more apple than he should have eaten—but he will be careful hereafter.

Amy Roderick, the daughter, came uptown Wednesday morning to tell her friends, the Nashes, that six men came down to see her father Tuesday night and that they were going to have a house with a floor in it in which to live. She spoke of what a beautiful morning it was—she was so happy she thought the sun was shining, and no one told her different. She laughed when she said "the boys were so full of mischief last night I could not get them to study their lessons."

That was the first anyone knew this 14-year-old girl was keeping her three brothers up in their lessons, beside trying to take the place of an almost blind mother in looking after them. She was very proud of them Wednesday morning when she saw how well they looked in the clothing that has been given them. Cecil, who is 12, needs a pair of shoes, but he and the next boy, David, are pretty well supplied with clothing. Bennie, the youngest, is yet to be fitted out.

No one need fear they are helping unworthy people. Mr. Roderick has 320 acres of land near Gove City, Kan., that he has proved up on. Seven years of extremely hard work and two or three years of drouth have made him give up the thought of staying there, and if the coming season is good he will sell the land and remain in this country. Last winter he lost eighteen cows in a blizzard. He had driven them down to a stream for water one day when a blizzard came on suddenly and he could not get the cows to face the storm back to the barn. They were buried for weeks in twelve feet of snow. Early the past summer when a contagious disease among horses broke out in Kansas and some places in Missouri, Mr. Roderick lost fourteen head.

But for all the hardships they have had the Rodericks saw people who were worse off than themselves. They stayed on the farm as long as they could, always hoping for rain. Many gave up sooner and Mr. Roderick gave away all the wheels from every vehicle he had, excepting one wagon, to people who had lost their horses and had made push carts in which to put a few belongings and then walked out of the country to relatives or friends.

When the Rodericks left the country they passed many fine country residences that were deserted, their owners having gone to some other place until the dreuth should be over.

A suitable house has been secured and it is thought that by evening they will be able to move in. Those who wish to give them anything will please take it to Dr. Nash's residence.

The needs now are a cook stove, washtub, carpets, bed springs, sheets, towels, a few more chairs and dishes.

Mrs. Roderick's wants have been looked after and Mr. Roderick will be well supplied with clothing. The mother is almost blind and her hearing badly affected from exposure. The little girl is doing her part so well in the family that the father says he could not near do without her.

The things that are being brought in to the Nash home will be used in other needy places, when the Rodericks are fitted out.

It has been suggested that apples and potatoes could be brought in by the country people, if only a half dozen from a family, and the aggregated amount would keep this family during the winter.

YOUR CHILDREN'S EYES.

Do Not Neglect Them—It is Very Important.

A little boy once said to his schoolmates, "I don't make any more mistakes in my music." This little boy had such poor eyesight that he could not read letters three and one-half inches square more than six feet away from him, and yet he had been repeatedly punished by his violin teacher for making mistakes while taking his lessons. Just think of it; punished for making mistakes when he could not see his notes plainly!

How did he find out that his eyes were weak? His school teacher had been making tests of the sight of her pupils and had discovered that this boy could not see well. She reported the fact to his parents, who got glasses that made him the happiest boy in the school, saved him many undeserved punishments and caused him to say, "I don't make any more mistakes in my music."

This boy did not know, nor did his parents know, but that he saw as well as every other boy, and his mistakes were thought to be from carelessness and inattention.

This same boy afterward became a noted violinist, was educated abroad and played before royalty. His glasses enabled him to see his notes plainly and he made no more mistakes in his reading music.

There have been thousands of just such boys and girls in our public schools in the past, who have been stumbling along, hating their lessons, scolded and punished by their teachers and parents, just because they had a defect of vision of which they and their parents and teacher were ignorant.

Parents, do you know that your children have good eyesight? Do you know that they are not "long-sighted," "near-sighted," or color blind? Do they often complain of being tired, or of having a headache when they return home from school? Do they dislike school? Are they sleepy and dull when trying to learn their home tasks? It is hard for them to keep up with their class? Are they inclined to "play hookey?" Then do not punish and scold them, until you first find out if there is not some physical cause behind it all, so that you may not regret later and blame yourself for neglect or injustice to one of your own.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse to the lawbreaker in court. Ignorance is no excuse for neglect of your children. Fifty per cent of the blindness caused by separation of the retina (the sight membrane within the eye) occurs in people who are near-sighted. Many of the headaches of children and others are the result of eye-strain caused by the attempt of the delicate eye muscles to overcome the defect. This overtaxing of them strains the eye muscles, then the letters blur or run together, the child feels tired and the eyes pain or headache follows.

Do not neglect your children's eyes!

Good Roads Prevent Disease.

Few persons, on first thought would see any possible connection between good roads and good health. Yet the state board of health of Kansas says that good roads can and will prevent disease. How? By the removal of weeds and trash. Weeds and trash prevent the prompt evaporation of moisture and promote retention of ground water. This makes ideal breeding spots for mosquitoes, flies and other insects, which are known as disease carriers, not to mention chinch bugs, hoppers and other insects which are crop damagers. Furthermore, an undergrowth of weeds invites the dumping of garbage and manure by offering concealment, of which fact careless and thoughtless people are prone to take advantage, thus increasing the facility of insect breeding and providing these insect carriers with proper material for disease transmission. Good roads also prevent disease by providing good drainage. Many farms have no means of drainage except by ditches along roadsways. Open ditches, clear of brush and debris, with hardened surface and proper fall, afford these farms the opportunity of ridding themselves of many a stagnant pool. The removal of weeds, proper road grading, surface hardening and oiling, insures prompt drainage of all pool, ditch and surface water, removing the possibility of insect breeders, for none can multiply without moisture. Road oiling in itself is destructive of insect larvae, especially mosquitoes—a well known fact. Dry roads offer pedestrians, and notably children who are compelled to walk to and from school, dry shoes and feet. While colds are due to specific germs, yet it is a well known fact that cold, wet feet and chilled limbs lower the resistance of individuals and make them more favorable subjects for infections of the respiratory passages, including pneumonia and tuberculosis. Good roads prevent disease by setting an example to adjoining farm premises. Good roads promote travel and set an example to the farmer whose premises are bordered by them. The comparison of a well graded, clean highway with an unkempt and trashy barnyard adjoining is sufficient to stimulate every land owner to a clean-up. Pride compels him to offer to passersby a neat appearing and attractive house and barn yard. Results are only too obvious. Good roads are active disease prevention agencies, aside from their financial and commercial value.

His Treasures.

"Young man," said the fond father, "in giving you my daughter I have intrusted you with the dearest treasure of my life."

The young man was duly impressed. Then, during the few moments of impressive silence that followed, he heard the patter of rain against the window pane.

"Gracious me!" he exclaimed. "It's raining and I haven't my umbrella. May I borrow yours to get to the station?"

"Young man," said the fond parent, "I wouldn't trust anybody on earth with my umbrella."—New York Globe.

ANAEMIC SINCE CHILDHOOD.

How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ashen finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had 'that tired feeling.' Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended, and after taking three bottles, my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down, weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. The Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

Kid Party is for the Girls.

The kid party at the State Normal Friday evening is for the girls of the Y. W. C. A. only. This announcement is made because the announcement in Tuesday's paper was rather misleading, as it said all were invited to come dressed as children. The party is being given by the losing side in the recent membership contest in the Y. W., which was divided into two sections, the Reds and the Blues, for the contest. The Blues won and are to be entertained by the Reds in the manner already announced.

Chancellor Bradford Their Guest.

Chancellor George H. Bradford of the Oklahoma Methodist university was an all-day guest Tuesday at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Embree, two miles southwest of Maryville. The company at dinner included Chancellor Bradford, Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Cox, Miss Jane Barrows, and the visitors at the Embree home, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Mills of Chicago and Miss Elizabeth McGrew of Washington, Pa. After dinner the men of the party, under the guidance of Brint Embree, spent the afternoon hunting in the woods. A fine duck supper was enjoyed at 6 o'clock, especially by Dr. Bradford, who is an experienced huntsman.

Dutch Whist for Maryville Girl.

A society note in last Friday's issue of the Journal of Hayward, Cal., gives account of an elaborate Dutch whist party given by Mrs. J. D. Armstrong in honor of Miss Lavera Condon of Maryville, who is spoken of as "an eastern girl who has been visiting in California the past year, has made a legion of friends during her stay here, and has been entertained extensively by friends in the bay cities. A dainty spread followed the games in a color scheme of Dutch blue." The notice further said that Miss Condon left that day for Los Angeles, where she is now visiting her brother, Tom Condon, and his wife, in company with Mrs. John W. Thompson of Phoenix, Ariz. Miss Condon went to California a year ago last October to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Vaughn, and other relatives. She is expected to arrive in Maryville in about two weeks.

Mrs. Will Wallis gave a word drill and Mrs. Townsend sang "The Watch on the Rhine." A vote of thanks was tendered by the department to Miss Jessie Parcher for securing Mrs. Ess of Kansas City for her lecture here. Two new members were added, Mrs. Arthur A. Brewer and Mrs. George R. IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look Mother! If Tongue is Coated, Cleanse Little Bowels With "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath of bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

HUERTA OFFERS TO DISCOUNT DUTIES

Dictator, However, Raises Tariff Fifty Per Cent.

UNITED STATES IS ACTIVE.

Steps Taken to Insure Safety of Germans in Torreon—Mexican Maidens Save Lives of Americans Lined Up Against Building for Execution.

Washington, Oct. 22.—In connection with the 50 per cent increase of the customs duties on imports into Mexico, General Huerta, seeking to obtain ready money, has offered to allow importers a 10 per cent discount on certificates good in payment of such dues if they are issued between Oct. 28 and Nov. 6.

Without waiting for the German government to ask about its forty-three subjects said to be forcibly detained in Torreon by the constitutionalist general, Villa, the United States, through Charge O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City, has made representations to the Huerta government supplementing those made by Emperor William's representative, who demanded protection for the prisoners.

Consular Agent Carothos at Torreon was likewise instructed to treat with Villa in behalf of the German, British, French and Spanish subjects detained after a caravan of some 300 Americans departed overland for Monterey. It is reported that General Villa has been holding these foreigners in the city to prevent federal attack. Officials here said probably that not more than half a dozen Americans remain in the beleaguered city.

STORY OF DURANGO REFUGEE

Mexican Maidens Save Lives of Americans About to Be Shot.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 22.—Tales of alleged outrages in the state and city of Durango, Mex., were related at the Red Cross headquarters by refugees who arrived on the transport Buford from Gulf of California ports.

"One of the worst outrages discussed on board the Buford," said Mrs. Mary Towelston of Durango, en route to Carrizozo, N. M., "was that inflicted on a young American and his wife at Durango. The revolutionists of General Carranza seized the couple in their home. They roped the husband fast and tied his wife to her bed, where they finally killed her.

"Twenty-seven Americans were lined up against a building in Durango to be shot by the rebels, but just as the first man was to be executed a Mexican maid rushed in front of him and pleaded for his life. Other Mexican girls joined in the plea for mercy and the Americans were spared.

"While there has been some restraint in the tendency to rob and murder, so far as Americans are concerned, no mercy is shown rich Mexicans."

CONGREGATIONALISTS MEET

National Council Will Take Advanced Stand on Liquor Issue.

Kansas City, Oct. 22.—One of the important reports to be presented to the national council of Congregational churches, which began its triennial convention here today, is that of the committee on temperance, appointed three years ago to draw up a statement of the church's attitude on the liquor question. Members of the committee, while refusing to give out the report, declared it contained a number of drastic suggestions that placed the church at the head of a national movement to eliminate the liquor traffic.

Sulzer Departs in Silence.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 22.—William Sulzer departed from Albany in silence. Not a friend outside of his official family accompanied him to the railroad station. Not a cheer greeted him as, with his hat drawn over his eyes and his chin buried in his overcoat collar, he walked slowly down the platform and boarded his car. Half a dozen of his advisers will follow him to New York today, to aid him in starting his fight for the assembly.

Bars Pictures in Trainmen's Watches.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—No longer can the engineers, conductors, brakemen and other employees in the operating department of the Illinois Central railway carry pictures of their wives, sweethearts and babies on their watch crystals. An order against the practice was issued by the management, which decided that such pictures are likely to detract the attention of employees from their work and that accidents might result.

Buggy Hit by Train, Four Killed.

TELLS OF "OTHER MAN" IN EATON CASE

Witness Says Alleged Lover Wanted Wife to Leave Admiral.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 22.—A reference to a "wealthy lover in Chicago," who wanted Mrs. Jennie May Eaton to leave her husband, was introduced by the prosecution as showing a possible motive in the trial of Mrs. Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton.

The evidence was given in the testimony of Mrs. Marshall Bursey of Washington, D. C., who said that eight months before the death of the admiral, Mrs. Eaton told her of the Chicago man and his proposal.

According to Mrs. Bursey, Mrs. Eaton did not disclose to her the name of the alleged lover, but said that he owned much property and had promised to leave it all to her.

Mrs. Eaton told the witness that Admiral Eaton had attacked her several times at night and at one time she awoke to find him injecting medicine into her arm.

WOMAN IN BEILIS CASE

Vera Tcheberiak Not Worried by Testimony Implicating Her.

Kiev, Oct. 22.—Vera Tcheberiak continues to be the most prominent figure in the trial of Mendel Beilis for the murder of Andrew Yushinsky, the Christian boy who was found killed in a cave in March, 1910. The woman sits with a sphynx-like expression in front of the witness stand and is never at a loss for an answer when confronted with those giving testimony which implicates her.

When Arnold Margolin, one of the prisoner's lawyers, was called Vera looked him up and down and declared she could not identify him.

Margolin testified that Vera when she was asked how she had explained the systematic character of the numerous wounds on young Yushinsky's body, answered that Pridhiko had studied medicine.

GERMS FOUND IN NOTE

Blackmailer Writes Letter to Woman Exposing Her to Malady.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Chemists employed by the postal authorities discovered colonies of germs in a letter sent to extort money from Mrs. Frederick Steele, a wealthy suburban resident. The letter warned Mrs. Steele that it contained 2,000,000 malignant bacilli, with which she was infected by opening it and demanded a sum of money in return for supply of the only serum that could cure her. Indications of the presence of a germ culture were found by the government chemists, who, however, were unable to state the nature of the disease they might convey.

SHOULD RESIGN OR GO TO WORK

Absent Members Scored by Both Sides in Senate.

RECENT PROCEEDINGS A FARCE

Seventeen Democrats Absent to Thirty-one in Washington and Nineteen Republicans in Capital to Twenty-eight Away.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Demands that senators either "resign or go to work," that absent members be brought back to Washington by the use of "any force that may be necessary," and that "the miserable pretense" of trying to do business without a quorum be ended, marked the session of the senate.

Leaders of both sides joined in the demand that "farce" of recent senate proceedings be ended. Senator LaFollette, leading the fight for the enactment of the seaman's bill, began the attack on senate absentees, but it was taken up and vigorously indorsed by Senator Kern, Democratic leader, and by Senators Borah, Cummins, Republicans, and others.

Senator Cummins said the body had allowed itself to get into a "humiliating position," and Senator Borah added that members should be kept in Washington and compelled to take up important subjects put off.

"I am in favor of the exercise of all the powers at our command to bring a quorum here," declared Senator Kern, the Democratic leader. "It will be very unfortunate for us to surrender to the absentees and give up work. It would be a confession to the world that the senate was unable to carry on the business entrusted to it."

His figures showed thirty-one Democrats in Washington and seventeen absent and nineteen Republicans in Washington and twenty-eight absent.

A double roll call brought in only forty-five senators, and sergeants-at-arms began to scour Washington for absentees. Later all absent senators were telegraphed to return to Washington.

COLOR LINE IS DISCUSSED

Negro Question Comes Up in Episcopal Convention.

New York, Oct. 22.—A heated debate over the negro question in the south enlivened the deliberations of the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church.

A majority report by the committee on racial episcopate, with recommendations against the proposal to establish separate churches, dioceses, clergy and bishops for southern negroes was presented. A minority report, advocating the separation of the races and the appointment of negro bishops to sit in the house of bishops, with powers equal to the whites, also was presented.

Amid a storm of discussion the house finally made consideration of both reports the order of business for the afternoon session, limiting debate on each side to half an hour.

Settlers Unable to Pay for Lands.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Hundreds of settlers on the Cheyenne and Standing Rock Indian reservations in South Dakota petitioned congress, through Senator Sterling, for relief from further payments on their lands. Four years of drought and poor crops, they said, had put them on the verge of ruin, and that they would be compelled to leave their lands and lose their homestead rights unless relieved. The case will be taken up by the public lands committee.

Raise in Rates Held Reasonable.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Proposed advances in freight rates on various commodities between cities in the Missouri river territory were held by the interstate commerce commission to be not unreasonable. Complaints of the proposed increases had been made by business interests of Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph and Sioux City, and they were suspended pending investigation.

Chicago Painters Return to Work.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Four thousand union painters, who have been on a strike for two months, returned to work. The union will pay a fine of $2,000, under protest, to the building trades council and take an appeal to the American Federation of Labor. The strike was the result of a dispute between the painters' district council, No. 14, and the building trades council.

Affirms Sentence of Cummings.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The state court of appeals unanimously affirmed the conviction of William J. Cummings, a formal official of the Carnegie Trust company of New York. Cummings was sentenced to serve a term of not more than eight years and eight months for grand larceny in the first degree for having diverted the proceeds of checks for $140,000.

MRS. PANKHURST DEFENDS MILITANCY

Speaks at Mass Meeting in Madison Square Garden.

New York, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, addressing in Madison Square Garden her first American meeting, explained why militant methods for the cause of woman suffrage are followed in England, but not in America, and defended the employment of such methods. She criticised the British government as the most conservative on earth and held it responsible, through failure to enact legislation desired by women, for advocates of suffrage resorting to violence to obtain the ballot.

Only through dynamite means, she declared, could Englishwomen hope to secure laws dealing with white slavery, industrial evils and other conditions affecting women.

The big hall, with a seating capacity of 12,000, was scarcely one-quarter filled.

TOM WATSON IS FREED

Indictment Against Atlanta Editor Quashed by Court.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 22.—The trial here of Thomas E. Watson, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails, ended abruptly when Federal Judge Rufus E. Foster sustained the motion of the defense quashing the indictment against the Georgia editor.

In directing that the indictment be quashed, Judge Foster said:

"It appears in this indictment that the publications alleged to have been sent through the mails in violation of the law are extracts from a complete article. It is my opinion that the government is required to plead the entire article and is not entitled to pick out a few paragraphs here and there and make them the basis of an indictment."
